

Summary of Titanic Data Findings:

1. Class and fare have a strong relationship with survival: higher class & higher fare = better survival.
2. Women survived at a much higher rate than men (seen in value_counts).
3. Younger passengers tended to survive more often than older ones.
4. Age has weak correlation but still shows survival trends in boxplots.
5. The Fare feature is highly skewed; high fare outliers often survived.